

INVITATION

McGill and Partners and Herbert Smith Freehills invite you to join them for a seminar:

How Secure Is Your Supply Chain?

In an ever more complex world with challenges ranging from geo-political conflict to severe weather events and from labour and energy shortages to pandemics, how should board members maintain appropriate oversight of an organisation's mission critical supply chain? Following the publication of AIRMIC's 2022 guide on "Supply Chains: Keep up with the pace", a panel of experts from Herbert Smith Freehills and McGill and Partners will examine this highly topical issue as well as considering the insurance industry's response to the growing challenge of supply chain risk.
